"I changed, I changed." Positive people are not some happy, go-lucky motherfuckers who lived a perfect life. Positive individuals, positive individuals are those that lived in Hell, walked through the fire, and chose not to exist there anymore. That's why this album's called, I Changed. 'cause we're redefining what we call "heart," what we call "correct," what we call "a man. " A man stands up for what's right, and we change all that bitch-ass behavior about us. Positive affirmations, positive actions equal positive results, and the new definition of "hard" is everything that's hardest for you. Learning to take pleasure in the ultimate sacrifices that bring you up to your highest potential. Raising that ROV, increasing that energy, so we can just dis...
