An Other

Cass McCombs

Desire for A.N. Other and desire for Desire
Anonymity in the big O, body lifeless, soul on fire
Anne Other

Anne's bedroom on Lucky Alley is like a hotbox shed
A functioning water faucet hangs over her queen-sized bed

John Doe wonders who she's talking to, to get her OC
The Devil or her "Free", absent love? As if Love could be free!
Anne Other

Mary Major or Anne Other, they are one and the same Desire howling anonymously when she came
Anne Other

When Anne came from Sacramento, John Doe saw her first
But John had his own axe to grind: he's always dying of thirst
Anne Other

Separate from Love, Desire is non-Being Through his Love, hate and jealousy, John obsessed over who Ann e was seeing
