

Only One

Cassandra Jenkins

Sea sick dawn
Come to tear off another page
Blink my eyes open
Punch the clock in the face

Another formula
Everywhere I turn
Everything adds up
To your number

You're the only one I've ever loved
The only one that I know how to love
You're the only one I've ever loved
The only one that I know how to love

Stick figure Sisyphus
Behind massage parlor window glass
How long will this pain in my chest last?
How long will it last?

You're the only one I've ever loved
The only one that I know how to love
You're the only one I've ever loved
The only one that I know how to love
You're the only one I've ever loved
The only one that I know how to love
You're the only one I've ever loved
The only one that I know how to love

How long will this last?
How long will it last?

You're the only one
The only one
You're the only one
The only one
You're the only one I've ever loved
The only one that I know how to love
You're the only one I've ever loved
The only one that I know how to love
You're the only one I've ever loved
The only one that I know how to love
