

Rain Will Come

Castanets

so rain will come so rain will come and wind will blow so night will call another will call and i will go so it's going to be sad and it's going to be long and we already know the end of this song. but sing it one more time so there's work to do and i will work still without cease for i am the size

i am the size of what i see and not the size of this body you have held and laid your will upon not the sound of this mouth but a sound that is hidden and stro ng
let it (?)
