

Too Young

Cat Burns

Tell me why when I hold your hand
All the memories we had come flooding back and
Tell me why when I kiss your lips
I remember the days we had fish and chips oh and
Tell me why when I said I loved you
After all we went through you said you didn't love me too
You didn't love me too

You sold me lies
To free my mind
You sold me enough
So I'd fall in love with you
Sold me lies
To free my mind
You sold me enough
So that I'd fall in love

But if I'm too young to love
Then why's he running through my mind everyday?
If I'm too young to understand
Then why he's always got the right things to say?
If I'm too young to love
Then why does this
Why does this hurt so bad?
If I'm too young to love
Then why is he
Why is he still in my head?

Tell me why when I lay in my bed
All the memories we had come rushing to my head
Tell me why when I look in your eyes
All I ever see in you, [?] there's lies oh and
Tell me why when I said I loved you
After all we went through you said you didn't love me too
You didn't love me too

You sold me lies
To free my mind
You sold me enough
So I'd fall in love with you
Sold me lies
To free my mind
You sold me enough
So that I'd fall in love

But if I'm too young to love
Then why's he running through my mind everyday?
If I'm too young to understand
Then why he's always got the right things to say?
If I'm too young to love
Then why does this
Why does this hurt so bad?
If I'm too young to love
Then why is he
Why is he still in my head?

Young too love

They said I'm too young to trust
They said I'm too young to love
They said I'm too young

But if I'm too young to love
Then why's he running through my mind everyday?
If I'm too young to understand
Then why he's always got the right things to say?
If I'm too young to love
Then why does this
Why does this hurt so bad?
If I'm too young to love
Then why is he
Why is he still in my head?

But if I'm too young to love
Then why's he running through my mind everyday?
If I'm too young to understand
Then why he's always got the right things to say?
If I'm too young to love
Then why does this
Why does this hurt so bad?
Why is he
Why is he still in my head?
