

Allegory to a Dying World

Cataract

Deadly epidemics cover the meadows, out of the bushes fi ring rusty salvos dried out the wage of human kind all increasing speed for modern day life goods for crooks asked by deadly knives and chopped up the roots of humankind deforestation, in these times - in the heart of darkness in these times increased speed for modern day life goods for crooks demanded by knife chopped up the roots of huma nkind cynical and ugly reality exploiting defenseless vitality conflicts and hegemony squeezed out with fatality deforestation in these times - in the heart of darkness!
