

Frontline

Catch Your Breath

I feel
Myself drifting away
From you
Deep down inside I was scared to lose you again
Poisonous thoughts cloud my judgement
Can I get a witness

The air thickens as I search for something
To breathe in when my lungs are starving
To escape this place I'll erase your face
It seems hopeless but I'll fight for it anyway

Intoxicating myself to the point
I don't feel a thing
But now I see it's following me
It's following me
My sanity's failing
I've gone off the edge
I must kill everything I see

The air thickens as I search for something
To breathe in when my lungs are starving
To escape this place I'll erase your face
It seems hopeless but I'll fight for it anyway

Give me an answer
Give me an answer
I can't escape this place
When I'm standing on the frontline
Frontline
And I can't hold on
So I look to the sky
Losing my mind
Thoughts fade to black and I fear for my life
Give me an answer
Give me an answer
When I'm standing on the frontline
Frontline

My sanity's failing
I've gone off the edge
I must kill everything I see

The air thickens as I search for something
To breathe in when my lungs are starving
To escape this place I'll erase your face
It seems hopeless but I'll fight for it anyway
It seems hopeless but I'll fight for it anyway

Give me an answer
Give me an answer
I can't escape this place
Frontline
And I can't hold on
So I look to the sky
Losing my mind

Thoughts fade to black and I fear for my life
Give me an answer
Give me an answer
