

Lovely

Catie Curtis

Lovely, do you love me?
I see you holding the room in your gaze
Lovely, you're starting to trouble me
Though I've only known you a matter of days

Sentimental music playing
Maybe it was the martini saying
There could be songs sung for just the two of us

Lovely, do you see me?
I watch you walk in and everyone stares
Funny, you say smiling becomes me
I know the reason, but do you understand?

Sentimental music playing
Maybe it was the martini saying
There could be songs sung for just the two of us

Lovely, do you love me?
I see you holding somebody's hand

Sentimental music playing
I can't hear what anyone is saying
All I see is you're so lovely
