

Strange

Catie Curtis

Strange how everything is changing now
Only my eyes are the same
I remember when you said to me like candy that you fed to me
Anyone could leave someone
All I wanted was to kiss you once

Strange how everything is possible now
California keeps telling me so
I lost my keys in your kitchen you said what are you missing

I said I should not have come
If all I wanted was to kiss you once

I know what I want
But I don't know what I want

Strange how everything is changing now
Only my eyes are the same
I pull out of your driveway I don't know which way to turn
I don't know where to run
All I wanted was to kiss you once
