Catie Turner

How many more times can you fall?
Another heart broken, you think you can fix them all
I fell in love with you for your stubbornness
But it can kill you if you don't put it to bed

I can't be your therapy
I'm tryna make you see health ain't the enemy
I'm tryna make you see how they're the enemy
And all that I can give is love and empathy
So you need therapy, oh

You can't keep up with your lies
The brightest and I know you're dying smile
I know why you are getting so defensive
And our demons wanna give you the chance to win

But I can't be your therapy
I'm tryna make you see health ain't the enemy
I'm tryna make you see how they're the enemy
And all that I can give is love and empathy
So you need therapy, oh

I'm sorry I can't fix you
It's not my place to try (place to try)
But I'll hold your hand through the darkness
Until we come out on the other side
I'm sorry I can't fix you
It's not my place to try
But I'll hold your hand through the darkness
Until we come out on the other side

Oh, your therapy
You depend on me but it's not healthy
I'm tryna make you see health ain't the enemy
And all that I can give is love and empathy
So you need therapy, oh

Therapy

You depend on me but it's not healthy
I'm tryna make you see health ain't the enemy
And all that I can give is love and empathy
So you need therapy, oh
