Humanure

Cattle Decapitation

The human body, in its systematic nature, has 3 primary objectives:

Procreate
Food Intake
The elimination of waste

This is the human equation One half is feces, the other mammal The human as shit.

This is what you've become The end result of human stupidity Another mesh of flesh with no dignity A solid waste with dull neuronal activity

2000 years from now they'll discover our copralite learn of disease and parasite enough to know what made us tick enough to make them sick

anatomy... scatanthropology... the study of man

Micturate - here's to your health Defecate - upon the self Felch - the goddamn sphinct and Gurgle - it's disgusting contents

Playing king of the hill On a mountain of manure On a planet called earth Mirroring what we're worth

We are nothing but a failure Evolution took a shit In my heart, through these eyes Humankind in its own shit resides.

2000 years from now they'll examine our copralite gain perspective and insight enough to know what made us tick and that we're made of shit
