

House On Fire

Caught a Ghost

You wanna fight, you think you're strong
That ain't the hill I'm dying on
They wanna riot, the lines are drawn
But they'll all be washed away with the storm
Rivers on fire, which side you on?
I'm trying to sing a sweeter song

It's a fire that's burning the ground
And it feels like the roof's coming down
Water rising, if you don't wanna drown
Said, it's time to lay your weapon down
We're all buried on the same battleground
Bathed in fire, fire, fire

You need the water to quench your thirst
But when it floods the dam will burst
You need the fire to warm your bed
Build it too high, you'll burn instead
You feel the sweat pour down your back
Once the fuse is lit, there's no turning back

It's a fire that's burning the ground
And it feels like the roof's coming down
Water rising, if you don't wanna drown
Said, it's time to lay your weapon down
We're all buried on the same battleground
Bathed in fire, fire, fire
