

It Should Be You

Caught In The Act

I spend my time alone no one to call my own that was until the day I saw you standing there You were the one for me I knew it instantly and so I seized the day and told you right away

I know it sounded crazy when I told you the thoughts in my head but I could not let go before you knew I meant the words I said

It should be you and it should be me
'cause from the minute that I saw your smile you chased my blue s away
'cause there's nobody who makes me feel the way you do

The words they came to me they came so easily and like no time before this time I knew for sure and then to my surprise you gave me this reply you said you've seen me too these words I heard from you

Love's never crazy if you follow where your heart has led and what I feel for you you're feeling too this is what you said

'cause from the minute that I saw your smile you chased my blue
'cause there's nobody else who makes me feel the way you do

When you're standing by my side do you feel it too 'cause nobody can make it so right

'cause from the minute that I saw your smile you chased my blue
'cause there's nobody else who makes me feel the way

'cause from the minute that I saw your smile you chased my blue
'cause there's nobody else who makes me feel the way you do
