

Amaranthine

Cave In

When our eagles ascend
They will rise up with force
Fly into the sun, siphon the sea
Everlasting life, amaranthine

We make peace with our sins
Raise our shields to the sun
The anthem is ours to sing
The pain, the fight, the death, the life
And then the love
And then the love

Born and bred to destroy
Patient, humble, and strong
Unleashing fury never seen
Everlasting life, amaranthine

We make peace with our sins
Raise our shields to the sun
The anthem is ours to sing
The pain, the fight, the death, the life
And then the love
And then the love

Centered eye gives the sight
When force is held in the rise
Open our eyes to the light
The cloak is hiding heavy wings

Everlasting life
Amaranthine
Everlasting life
Amaranthine

The pain, the fight, the death, the life
And then the love
And then the love
And then the love
