

Have you strayed from the movement?
You're lost in a lie.
Contradiction is my worst fear,
I cannot see how you can block the truth from your ears.
Has it turned from a lifestyle to a fking trend?
You're too busy feeding your face to realize what you've caused
pain and suffering to a being as helpless as a baby.
You'll never see it my way until you stop giving into your greed.
Deaf to the truth, blind to reality.
For once, can you take the attention away from your hunger,
look outside yourself and see just what you created?
Pain, and suffering to a being as helpless as a baby.
