

It's Okay

Cavetown

Hey, it's okay if you're not okay right now
You have plenty of time to figure it out
And before you know know it, you won't even remember the last time
Someday you'll be glad you didn't listen to your demons that one night

And I already can't wait to see how you'll grow
There'll be skies as blue as your eyes and grass as soft as your nose
And I'll tell you all of the things I love about you
I'll tell you about all the times that I've smiled because of you
And you'll realize
It's okay if you're not okay right now
