

So Much

Cavetown

I've got a lot of ghosts inside me just whizzing round
And no matter what temptations I use I can't coax them out
My worries are all far too selfish I can't let you know
Cause if what's in my head went into yours I'd have to let you go

God knows I'm trying to get a new perspective
Push the boat to face a new direction
If you're happy I can let you be
But please, oh please, be happy because of me

My body hurts, it hurts so much
When you're not here, can't feel your touch

My body hurts
It hurts so much
It hurts so much
It hurts so much
