

Wolves

Cavo

Put away the boxes of all the things
You thought You'd never leave behind
Caught up in the memories of a world you lost
It's never far behind

You're so wrong
And you're not right
And you're not leaving with the way I feel tonight
You're so bold
And you're not bright
Cause you think god will change your mind

Soon the day will come
The wolves will tear apart
Everything that you love
That you love
Soon the day will come
The wolves will tear apart
Everything that you love
That you love

Cause
I've been waiting for so long

Try to change you point of view
Remember that it's only in your mind

You're so wrong
And you're not right
And you're not leaving with the way I feel tonight
And you're so bold
And you're not bright
Cause you think god will change your mind

Why?

Soon the day will come
The wolves will tear apart
Everything that you love
That you love
Soon the day will come
The wolves will tear apart
Everything that you love
That you love

Cause
I've been waiting for so long

Soon the day will come
The wolves will tear apart
Everything that you love
That you love
Soon the day will come
The wolves will tear apart
Everything that you love
That you love

Cause
For so long
