I Am

CeCe Winans

I am the one, yes, I created the whole universe
Greater than anything in heaven and in all the earth
It's my air you breathe, so I'm the one that you should please
I am the one you need, why should you be alone?

I am that I am, I'm all that you need
I can, yes, I can, no, it ain't too hard for me
Do you know, really know, do you really believe?
Every day, every night of your life, I am

It hurts my heart indeed to see those whom I love in need
Knowing all I wonder, why they never call on me
If you just ask and I can satisfy you with the things
I'll give you everything, yes, you can have it all

I tell the sun to shine, the wind to blow, the rain to fall
I move the mountains and the oceans, rivers great and small
Yes, everything I made I want to hear them give me praise
Especially you, my children each and every day

I am that I am, I'm all that you need
I can, yes, I can, no, it ain't too hard for me
Do you know, really know, do you really believe?
Everyday, every night of your life

I am
