

This World Will Never Be the Same

CeCe Winans

This world will never be the same
This world will never be the same
According to the eastern star
The newly born messiah waits this way

This world will never be the same
This world will never be the same
The savior born is come at last
The world we've known is passed with yesterday

Like a comet landing on the earth
A child has changed our universe
Technicolor light breaking though the grey

Like a comet landing on the earth
Christ has changed our universe
Finally human life lords over the grave

My life will never be the same
My life will never be the same
My lonesome soul's been reconciled
The toil on my heart is washed away

In a single word in a single name
God's full power is contained
All in the name of Jesus (Jesus)
This world will never be the same
This world will never be the same
