

Could Be Machine

Celeste

Don't know where you started, but you know where your heart is
You try to fight with every word you think you know
And nobody knows that I didn't choose it
Nobody knows that I didn't choose it
And who there's innocent? Who there's innocent? I

Could be loving right now, could be loving right now
Could we be machines? Could we be machines?
Could be loving right now, could be loving right now
Could we be machines? Could we be machines?

Don't know where you started, but you know where your heart is
You try to fight it, so decided, woah
And nobody knows that I didn't choose it
Nobody knows that I didn't choose it
And who there's innocent? Who there's innocent? I

Could be loving right now, could be loving right now
Could we be machines? Could we be machines?
Could be loving right now, could be loving right now
Could we be machines? Could we be machines?

And we don't like to fake it just to shake off the dust
And life goes
Gives many parts to us until the engine stalls
But it could be
But it could be

Could be loving right now
Could we be machines? Could we be machines?
