

Summer

Celeste

I need a driver, someone to take me home
And I need a shoulder to lay my head upon
And I need some guidance, I won't do this on my own
Just want my head to listen, it's been spinning for far too long
I'm lost in a city I feel I belong in
I don't feel like a stranger anymore
My face is not the only one I know
Feel such a strange hold taking over

And it's all I need, lost on this feeling
And it's all I need, it's just a change of time
And it's all I need, why don't we end on a high?
And it's all I need, no plain end in sight

Please take off your coat, I've been waitin' in the wintertime
Drop-top falls and springs back in the summertime
My crystal ball, I see everything creep in, see you leavin'
Cartier wedding rings and dinner in the evening
Fighting over oysters, picture perfect, so deceiving
I'm still the lost boy, I used to be dreaming
Hit the vending machine in the courtyard
Racks in your sports bra, room service, cleaning
Eyes bleedding, sun creeping through the drapes
Crash buds on the mountaintop, diving in the lake
Love ended with the summer
Funny how we turn a Beamer to a bummer, anyway, ayy

And it's all I need, lost on this feeling
And it's all I need, it's just a change of time
And it's all I need, why don't we end on a high?
And it's all I need, no plain end in sight
