

Time Will Tell

Celeste

It's hard to say 'cause only time will tell
Let's keep it undecided until it reveals itself
Get another chance to do it well
If we can bear uncertainty, what will be will be
If it was up to me, I would leave it not to dwell

Give it to chance or something else
And keep reminding myself
Only time, only time, only time
Only time will tell

Nothing's ever perfect as it is
We like to think we left it behind us, but we never did
Now all those conversations never help
So why do I keep having them with you and no one else?
It's everywhere you go if you

Feel it all around you, feel it, then you're bound to Keep reminding yourself
Only time, only time, only time
Only time will tell

Well, once in the world, there were in doubt
In one single word, you can turn it around
Tell me what's in the words when they look at us now?

Know it's hard to say 'cause only time will tell
Let's keep it undecided 'cause only time
Only time, only time
Will tell
