

Not Enough

Celina Sharma

Loving you
Used to feel like driving a
New Ferrari speeding down the wrong side
Of the 405
Made me feel so alive

What happened to
All the highs we used to feel
It's like karma got it's hand stuck on the steering wheel
Pulled us back
Then pushed us right off track

I got kinda used
To feeling lonely
Lying next to you
I don't feel the fire when you hold me
You can't live a lie and tell the truth

Even when it's there
Even when you care
Sometimes it's not enough
And even when you try
You just can't deny
Sometimes it's not enough

There might be someone better for your heart
And honestly ya that's the hardest part

This time I realize
I'm too tired to fight
And I need more than love
Cause even when it's there it's not enough

Loving you
Felt like jumping out a plane
No parachute but somehow I still felt safe
In your arms
I had everything I want

What happened to
Feeling like we're always high
Me and you
Now we're falling from the sky
We hit the ground
Can't go no further now

I got kinda used
To feeling lonely
Lying next to you
I don't feel the fire when you hold me
You can't live a lie and tell the truth

Even when it's there
Even when you care
Sometimes it's not enough
And even when you try
You just can't deny

Sometimes it's not enough

There might be someone better for your heart
And honestly ya that's the hardest part

This time I realize
I'm too tired to fight
And I need more than love
Cause even when it's there it's not enough