

Save The Pain

Century

Save the pain - lift your head up and see
Save the tears - and be free

You know you need the scars
To see the truth in your mind
Be strong and sure where you belong to,
Don't be blind

Save the pain - lift your head up and see
Save the tears - and be free

The rain of self contempt comes down
Hard and unconditional
And you crawl with your wounds wide open
On a long way of time
Only to hear the chime of your heart again,
And to save the pain

Save the pain - lift your head up and see
Save the tears - and be free
Save the pain - lift your head up and see
Save the tears - and be free
