

Radio Up

Chad Brownlee

We were getting in the car that night
Something didn't really feel quite right
She didn't grab my hand like she always does

It's like she was a million miles away
'Bout the time our song started to play
She had a heartbreak look in her eyes
You know, the one that's gonna tell you goodbye, so I

I turn the
Radio up, radio up loud
She was 'bout to tell me she was leaving, leaving our little town
I was only drowning out what she had to say
Oh, I wish that song would've played all day on the
Radio up, radio up loud
Maybe she'd still be here now

I thought if I could just play that song
Take her back to when our love ran strong
Get inside her heart, I'd maybe change her mind

Three minutes full of memories
Would be enough to make her stay with me
But it's almost over, it's almost done
And then she's gonna tell me that she's moving on

I turn the
Radio up, radio up loud
She was 'bout to tell me she was leaving, leaving our little town
I was only drowning out what she had to say
Oh, I wish that song would've played all day on the
Radio up, radio up loud
Maybe she'd still be here now

Yeah, maybe she'd still be here now

So I turn the
Radio up, radio up loud
She was 'bout to tell me she was leaving, leaving our little town
I was only drowning out what she had to say
Oh, I wish that song would play all day on the
Radio up, radio up loud
Maybe she'd still be here now

Maybe she'd still be here now
Maybe she'd still be here now
