

Echo Train

Chad VanGalen

What makes you think it's gonna last
When everything you've ever done was to be past
Just think about our bodies in this place
And imagine us shooting through the space

Stop dragging us down
With all your tick-tocking clocks that seem to never slow down
Stop dragging us down
Because eventually this future's gonna swallow you

Why do you think it's gonna end
When everything that's ever been around on this echo train
Just think about our bodies in this place
And imagine us shooting through the space

Stop dragging us down
With all your tick-tocking clocks that never seem to slow
down
Stop dragging us down
Because eventually this future's gonna swallow you
