In Flames

Chainsaw

Your half-closed eyes
Yield to drowsiness
Tired of something
You won't ever look back
Sucked in by stagnation so dark it chokes you leaving a mark with each word you stay behind so vulnerable mind

How could I hold on
When others pass away
Marching steadily on
Straight and endless way
None of them will holler
When their hearts quietly
Will burn out, will burn out
Will burn out!

Every one has a flame which burns eternally
And it heats from inside, adds vitality
Add some, some wood, let it light up high
Let it light the darkest crossroads' site

How could I hold on
When others pass away
Marching steadily on
Straight and endless way
None of them will holler
When their hearts quietly
Will burn out, will burn out
Will burn out!

But always remember!!!!
You always remember!!!!
