

Stars

Chalice

Stars fade the clouds
Nascent seedling's first hours
As the spring dawn starts the dance on the crystallized ice

Sinless sprouts of life
Emerge from ground as a sign
And all the past scars could not chain the recent love that you cast

Trumpet sounds in the air
Withdraw the thoughts of despair
Majestic silhouettes arrive by the southwestern winds

Solar flares blaze afar
Emergent worlds of new stars
And all the past scars could not chain our shared dream in this life

Newborn the reason why
And I will make my way back to light
And I will stay by your side for lifetime
And I will trace the signs
To keep my word for you now...

Oh I have felt the power of stormwaves
And I've seen the beauty of sun
I have painted the world so black
With every shade of my palette damned

Long-lasting shades of darkest days
And the silver springs in May Reflect the spectrums of our lives
We emphasize and push away

Oh I have felt the power of stormwaves
And I've seen the beauty of sun
I have painted the world so black
With every shade of my palette damned

Misguided steps of blinded men
Nourish baneful beaten paths
Yet with one touch and a pure intent
One makes a changing mark for lifetime

Celestial guidance shines from worlds afar
Your name forever written in the stars
