

Breathe in, breathe out, whisper to me softly
You're alright, it's okay, darling, don't be sorry
Slow down, step back, like you always tell me
It ain't all bad, it's just overwhelming

I know you don't do too well with changes
Seems like lately it's all we've been facing
I need patience for my imperfections
Bear with me while I try to learn these lessons

It's a feeling I can't shake
And it's not fair for you to shoulder all this weight
Oh, for you I'd do the same
But for now

Can you hold me up? 'Cause I ain't strong enough right now
For the both of us, and I don't wanna let you down
Oh, believe me, love, I'm gonna get up off the ground
All I need's your love and time, and we'll find a way somehow
Can you hold me up 'til we reach the other side?
The road is rough, but I think the end's in sight
Oh, believe me, love, we're gonna make it through the night
As long as I got you with me, and your loving hand in mine

You make me whole like I always wanted
Won't let me go even at my lowest
I'd write your name in the stars if I could Take your place, rearrange, bear the weight like I should

It's a feeling I can't shake
And it's not fair for you to take on all my pain
Oh, for you I'd do the same
But for now

Can you hold me up? 'Cause I ain't strong enough right now
For the both of us, and I don't wanna let you down
Oh, believe me, love, I'm gonna get up off the ground
All I need's your love and time, and we'll find a way somehow
Can you hold me up 'til we reach the other side
The road is rough, but I think the end's in sight
Oh, believe me, love, we're gonna make it through the night
As long as I got you with me, and your loving hand in mine

How long will I last before I collapse?
I'm holding on to your love until we get past this
I hope it's not too much, darling, won't you hold me up?
How long will I last before I collapse?
I'm holding on to your love until we get past this
I hope it's not too much, darling, won't you hold me up?
