

Good Love Die

Chance Peña

I feel so lonely beside you now
We let a good love die, let the fire burn out
And I can't say if I'm right or I'm wrong
But the truth of it is it doesn't matter at all
It doesn't matter at all
Safe to say it's probably both of our fault

Seems like yesterday we were fine
I was gonna love you for the rest of my life
Then everything changed and I'm wondering why
Maybe it'd be different if we swallowed our pride
Darling what a shame, what a waste, what a crime
Had the kind of love that you don't get to have twice
If anyone could lose it, baby, it's you and I
It's a special kind of sin to let a good love die

Stone-cold eyes, babe, what happened to us?
Always trying too hard or not trying enough
Was it the words unsaid or the battles we fought?
And if we're both bled dry it don't matter the cost
Oh it don't matter the cost
Safe to say it's probably both of our faults

Seems like yesterday we were fine
I was gonna love you for the rest of my life
Then everything changed and I'm wondering why
Maybe it'd be different if we swallowed our pride
Darling what a shame, what a waste, what a crime
Had the kind of love that you don't get to have twice
If anyone could lose it, baby, it's you and I
It's a special kind of sin to let a good love die

Seems like yesterday we were fine
I was gonna love you for the rest of my life
Darling what a shame, what a waste, what a crime
It's a special kind of sin to let a good love die
