Misery's King

Winds listen to me And carry my voice as far as there are ears to hear Clouds lift my spirit to the open doors of heaven Eleven times the earth has offered a ring to her beloved since the day I reached this lonely place. This lonely place...

Now I am Misery's King!

These rocks became my Palace I am King without one subject Hallucination is my faithful servant When I feel sad I am dancing with my thoughts I tried to lock inside me Something young, Something vivid But in vain...

Now I'm Misery's King!
