

Lost The Best Thing

Charice

Take back my tears
Every useless one that I ever let fall
Don't tell me you care
All that you're good for now is "See I told you so."

Till the very last lie
You drew me in and I guess that's why
You never knew that breaking my heart
Was stupid to do, stupid of you

And you just lost the best thing
That crashed into your life
And if you're done pretending
Then get yourself a life
Cause payback here I go
I'm taking back the perks that you'll never know
And you just lost the best thing
That crashed into your life

I took back my heart
Every reckless beat that ever skipped for you
Good for a laugh,
Guess for a moment there
It kept you well amused

Till the very last lie
You drew me in and I guess that's why
You never knew that breaking my heart
Was stupid to do, stupid of you

And you just lost the best thing
That crashed into your life
And if you're done pretending
Then get yourself a life
Cause payback here I go
I'm taking back the perks that you'll never know
And you just lost the best thing
That crashed into your life

Count your mistakes
Cause boy this one's a big one
Can't get it back, guess the moment's long gone
Look for me, look for me, look for me
Oh, do you even know what you've done
And you just lost the best thing
That crashed into your life yeah

And you just lost the best thing
That crashed into your life
And if you're done pretending
Then get yourself a life
Cause payback here I go
I'm taking back the perks that you'll never know
And you just lost the best thing
That crashed into your life

And you just lost the best thing

That crashed into your life
And if you're done pretending
Then get yourself a life
Cause payback here I go
I'm taking back the perks that you'll never know
And you just lost the best thing
That crashed into your life
