

Hardwood Floors

Charles Wesley Godwin

Go put on that blue dress
The one you know I love the best
Don't mind me, I'll stay down here
So I can watch you stridin' down the steps
I missed you more than you know
It seems like we're always fightin' time
Thoughts of you on nights like these
Give me hope while across state lines

Let's warm up these hardwood floors
And tonight I'll see you spin around
Take my hand, honey, let's just dance
And pretend there ain't nobody else in town
And tonight there ain't nobody else around
And tonight there ain't nobody else in town

Four feet move down the line
Synchronized in perfect time
And for once my blues have passed
I can feel them fading behind
And your eyes they look in mine
Reading what lies behind
It's just love, honey, don't you mind
Everything will be just fine

Let's warm up these hardwood floors
And tonight I'll see you spin around
Take my hand, honey, let's just dance
And pretend there ain't nobody else in town
And tonight there ain't nobody else around
And tonight there ain't nobody else in town, no

The moments he has a little life
He lives and breathes like a soul
Here and now it breathes in us
Livin' on 'til we're old
Until we're old

Let's warm up these hardwood floors
And tonight I'll see you spin around
Take my hand, honey, let's just dance
And pretend there ain't nobody else in town
And tonight there ain't nobody else around
And tonight there ain't nobody else in town

Let's warm up these hardwood floors
And tonight I'll see you spin around
Take my hand, honey, let's just dance
And pretend there ain't nobody else in town
And tonight there ain't nobody else around
And tonight there ain't nobody else in town, oh
