

Altars

Charli XCX

As I kneel before your altar, I begin to cry
You were my perfect blue
My hands together in a search for proof
Silence rang out from the window

One is not the loneliest number
I won't keep putting all my faith in you
One is not the loneliest number
Got me turning far away from you

I'm at your altar, baby
I once believed, I once believed I was free
I'm at your altar, baby, now I can see
You're gonna end up killing me
Oh, I must be the only be one

As I lie awake in this room, I begin to pray
You and I so violently could be together in forbidden scene
My mind is torturing the body

One is not the loneliest number
I won't keep putting all my faith in you
One is not the loneliest number
Got me turning far away from you

I'm at your altar, baby
I once believed, I once believed I was free
I'm at your altar, baby, now I can see
You're gonna end up killing me
Oh, I must be only one
I must be the only one
I must be the only one
