

On And On

Charlie Burg

You've been M.I.A. for too long
I've been in the city, tryna write this next- for too-
You've been M.I.A. for too long
I've been in the city, tryna write-

Last night
You made a promise, and if I'm honest
I lied
It's a little too late, oh, baby, but Somewhere between the moment we tried to hold
It feels like I'm 'bout to break

But I've been in a minute, you've been M.I.A. for too long
I've been in the city, tryna write this next song
And when I think you're gonna leave again
I thought the feeling was gone

And it goes on and on and on and on
And it goes on and on and on and on
And every time I come around, you come along
And it goes on and on and on and on
And it goes

Last night
You said you're leaving without a reason
That's life
There's no time to waste
But am I keeping you thinking that you're not enough?
You reach for my heart as I reach for your love

But I've been in a minute, you've been M.I.A. for too long (But I've been in a minute, you've been M.I.A. for too long)
I've been in the city, tryna write this next song
And when I think you're gonna leave again
I thought the feeling was gone

And it goes on (On) and on and on and on
And it goes on (On) and on and on and on
And every time I come around, you come along
And it goes on (On) and on and on and on
And it goes

You've been M.I.A. for too long
I've been in the city, tryna write this next- for too-
You've been M.I.A. for too long
I've been in the city, tryna write this next- for too long
