

Lines

Charlie Cunningham

Make them wonder where you've gone
Or if you've even gone
Look how far you've come
From where you started from

It rolls into one
Think about the problems that need sweeping under
They turn you into something nobody needs, move along
Closer and you'll find

Everyone gets close to the line
And some of us cause it sometimes
A home, a bird, hard just to find
With them home for awhile

You push through the burn
The world needs to turn like it's always done
Cornerstone time, lessons unlearned
Of the story told in song

You push through the burn
The world needs to turn like it's always done
Cornerstone time, lessons unlearned
Of the story told in song
