

Let You Down

Charlotte Day Wilson

Baby, you say it takes you years before you trust someone
But I don't know how long there's got if this has just begun
Because I know that

I'll only letting you down
I'll only letting you down
I know it's hard, leaving it all behind
But I know, I'll only let you down

I hear your voice it calls me out, the words I never speak
Like all the books you gave me, that I still have yet to read
If you only you knew where the pages beat, oh yeah
Because honestly I, will hold on and heal
I never intend to be, 'cause

I'll only letting you down
I'll only letting you down
I know it's hard leaving it all behind
But I know, I'll only let you down
But I know, I'll only let you down
But I know, I'll only let you down
But I know, I'll only let you down

I'll only letting you down
I'll only letting you down
I know it's hard leaving it all behind
But I know, I'll only let you down
But I know, I'll only let you down
But I know, I'll only let you down
But I know, I'll only let you down
