

Collateral

Charlotte Lawrence

I've never seen your house
Maybe I wasn't meant to
When all of it got too loud, I ran from you
I'm making an adult decision to cut you out
Guess I'll always be somebody who let you down
Who let you down

I'm not trying to hurt you baby
Ooh, I blew it all up and you were just collateral
But for a minute you were my whole world
(For a minute you were mine)
But for a minute you were my whole world

I've never kissed your mouth
Maybe I got close to
One day you'll figure it out
You should avoid me like a sickness
And I'll deal with the consequences
'Cause everyone takes in this town
Guess I'll always be somebody who let you down
Who let you down

I'm not trying to hurt you baby
Ooh, I blew it all up and you were just collateral
But for a minute you were my whole world
(For a minute you were mine)
But for a minute you were my whole world
(For a minute you were mine)

But for a minute you were my whole world
(For a minute you were mine)
But for a minute you were my whole world
(For a minute you were mine)
But for a minute you were my whole world
(For a minute you were mine)
But for a minute you were mine
(For a minute you were mine)

Hey it's been a second
Since I've seen your face
I heard you got a new girl and you stay at her place
And you'll never know that I'm jealous
'Cause I'll never say it out loud
Guess I'll always be somebody who let you down
Guess I'll always be somebody who let you down
