

Somewhere

Charlotte Lawrence

You can love someone more than you understand
It can make you afraid, no one tells you that
You can make a mistake, it's not like you planned it
So I put it in drive into oncoming traffic

I'm two beers away from losing my license again
I don't know what I did but I'm asking for forgiveness
And I can see razorblades
Pieces of sunlight hitting your face
I can hear laughter
While you're still here the morning after
Somewhere

You wouldn't let me love you out loud
So I stole you a t-shirt from the self checkout
I slept in my car in front of your house
I waited for you but you never came out

I'm two beers away from losing my license again
Yeah I know what I did but I'm asking for forgiveness
And I can see razorblades
Pieces of sunlight hitting your face
I can hear laughter
While you're still here the morning after
Somewhere

Driving back over the canyon
And my knuckles hurt with your shirt in my hand

I think tonight I'm gonna be a problem
I think tonight I'm gonna be a problem
I think tonight I'm gonna be a problem

And I can see razorblades
Pieces of sunlight hitting your face
I can hear laughter
While you're still here the morning after
Somewhere
