

Us Three

Charlotte Lawrence

It's too late to say goodnight
One more fuck to say goodbye
A little bit rough, the way she likes
I know you know I know
You've been up in Calabasas
I wish I didn't know her address
The hidden hills can't hide your habits
Even though you try

One, two, you and me
One, two, then it was us three

Tell me again that you never loved her
Try and explain why I'm not enough to
Heal all the pain every time you suffer
I'm trying, you're lying
Swear on my name that you're gonna cut her
Off like a chain too tight around your throat
'Fore you choke and she drags you back again
I'm saying tell me again that you never loved her
Steal all the knives from the kitchen cupboard
Chills down my spine, promise there's no other
You're lying

Roses that she sent herself
Said they were from you while I'm Floating on the pink cloud that you tried to silver line

One, two, you and me
One, two, then it was us three

Tell me again that you never loved her
Try and explain why I'm not enough to
Heal all the pain every time you suffer
I'm trying, you're lying
Swear on my name that you're gonna cut her
Off like a chain too tight around your throat
'Fore you choke and she drags you back again
I'm saying tell me again that you never loved her
Steal all the knives from the kitchen cupboard
Chills down my spine, promise there's no other
You're lying
You're lying
You're lying
You're lying
