

Tough

Charlotte Martin

I'm not sure what I'm doing here
Have I given my best shot?
Have I really lived
Or have I not?

Sometimes the world is so hard to please
And I don't feel good enough
But who love hell measures up?

And I've told to heaven so many times
And my dress has tasted the tears
They say, "We'll just see how tough you can be this year"

Now all my feelings are falling down
And are piling at my feet
And each tear I've dropped
A piece of me

Well I love you now and I love you tthen
And I will love youu till I die
'Cause I know time's not on my side

And I've told to heaven so many times
That it's raining in my ears
They say, "We'll just see how tough you can be this year"

My heart has died
A thousand times
But I still can breathe
We won't change
And we all face
But we still believe
Show your faith
Enough to wait
But our heart still freeze

And I've told to heaven so many times
And my dress has tasted the tears
They say, "We'll just see how tough you can be"

I've told to heaven so many times
That it's raining in my ears
They said, "We'll just see how tough it can be this year
This year"
