

Inevitable

Charlotte OC

To love and lose is inevitable
But to truly love someone, you have to lose it all
Await the news you don't wanna hear
I already miss you even though you're here

Someone tell the heavens they should wait
Someone help me through another day
Moments like these happen all the time
This is why we're here, this is life, oh

To love and lose is inevitable
But to truly love someone, you have to lose it all
Await the news you don't wanna hear
I already miss you even though you're here

Today I wear the saddest eyes I've seen
Perspective changes, blue turns into green
You're the only reason that I sing
And now I'm on a stage and I can't hear a thing
You're in my voice, don't let the end begin, oh

To love and lose is inevitable
But to truly love someone, you have to lose it all
Await the news you don't wanna hear
Oh, I already miss you even though you're here

To love and lose is inevitable
But to truly love someone, you have to lose it all
Await the news you don't wanna hear
Oh, I already miss you even though you're here
