

Mexico

Charlotte OC

Out in the city, walking around like I'm fine on my own
But in reality, this isn't easy, out in the cold Ever since he left, his side of the bed is [?] I like to go
So sick of waiting, losing my patience, sat by the phone

And when we speak, come let me know
How much he's hurting me, so please

Can someone send me my lover? I really need him home
I last saw him in the summer down in Mexico
If it's only for the night, I take what I can get, no, I don't mind
Oh, can someone send me my lover? I really need him home

He's sent a postcard, he's driving a Mustang down to the coast Oh, he said, "It's not long, darling, just hold on, I miss you the most"

But when we speak, he hears how much
It's really hurting me, so please

Can someone send me my lover? I really need him home
I last saw him in the summer down in Mexico
If it's only for the night, I take what I can get, no, I don't
mind
Oh, can someone send me my lover? I really need him home

Oh, please send me my love, please send me my love
Please send him home
Oh, please send me my love, please send me my love
Please send him home

Can someone send me my lover? I really need him home
I last saw him in the summer down in Mexico
If it's only for the night, I take what I can get, no, I don't
mind
Oh, can someone send me my lover? I really need him home

I really need him home
I really need him home
