

Done

Charlotte Sometimes

Hang your head
All you've read
Dead in the sand of a storm
Don't really know what's the norm
Take all the flowers off the chair
Nobody knows that you're there

No, everything that I know
Is everything that I don't
So I'm just done, done, done, done
I'm just done, done, done

Sip the wine
I am fine
Drown me out
It hurts aloud
The world is a dark shade of red
Here is the life that I've led

No, everything that I know
Is everything that I don't
So I'm just done, done
Lies, that's what I'm trying to find
It ends when I sigh
That I'm just done, done, done
That I'm just done, done, done

And everything I wanna be Everything I wanna see
Blends into the dark
I'm reaching up, you're looking down
Every time I laugh out loud
Takes the breath from me

No, everything that I know
Is everything that I don't
So I'm just done, done
Lies, that's what I'm trying to find
It ends when I sigh
That I'm just done, done, done
That I'm just done, done, done
That I'm just done, done, done
That I'm just done, done, done
