

Here Comes The Darkness

Charly Bliss

Used to think every dream I had about you was a sign
Every wave that crashed down on me was the fight of my life
I close my eyes
I'd still beg for you from every faceless dive till I change your mind
I'd run wild for you, my feet don't leave the ground

Wherever you are, I'm falling apart
I want a new end and a different story arc
It breaks my heart, I was so far off
Go back to the start
You were the sky, and I was a star
Thought no one could see me if they weren't looking hard
It breaks my heart, I was so far off
Here comes the darkness

Show me her picture, say you're holding onto somebody new Told myself I'd be fine just watching from the back of the room
But now it's true
And I can't quiet down, and I can't be subdued if I don't have you
Love can't touch me now, my feet don't leave the ground

Wherever you are, I'm falling apart
I want a new end and a different story arc
It breaks my heart, I was so far off
Go back to the start
You were the sky, and I was a star
Thought no one could see me if they weren't looking hard
It breaks my heart, I was so far off
Here comes the darkness

I drove all night, the words don't come
Shut it down, I'll wait forever
I know my heart, but shut it down
If it's wrong, I'll wait forever
I drove all night, the words don't come
I won't get free or try

Wherever you are, I'm falling apart
I want a new end and a different story arc
It breaks my heart, I was so far off
Go back to the start
You were the sky, and I was a star
Thought no one could see me if they weren't looking hard
It breaks my heart, I was so far off
Here comes the darkness

I was so far off
Here comes the darkness
I was so far off
Here comes the darkness