

Old Flame, New Fire

Charly McClain

Isn't it strange, me running into you after all this time
You haven't changed, there's that old smile I knew
It used to light up the night
We looked at each other the same way back then
I just never thought it would happen again
Old flame, new fire

We're seeing that old spark again in each other's eyes
Old flame, new fire
Should we walk away or give it one more try
Old flame, new fire

So, here we are, they say that people change
And maybe we have by now
Still, who can say, oh, if we tried again
It might be different somehow
There was a time, when I thought we were through
But I know, I was wrong, when I look at you
Old flame, new fire

We're seeing that old spark again in each other's eyes
Old flame, new fire
Should we walk away, or give it one more try
Old flame, new fire

Old flame, new fire
Should we walk away, or give it one more try
Old flame, new fire
Old flame, new fire

We're seeing that old spark again in each other's eyes
Old flame, new fire
Should we walk away, or give it one more try
Old flame, new fire
