

Only The Lonely Know

Charly McClain

Just when you think you've figured him out, there he goes again
Acting crazy til you take him back like the fool you've always been

And what makes you think you're special to him?
You've made that lover's mistake
Time after time, you freely give but all he does is take

And only the lonely know how much it hurts to show
Affection when it's never returned
And only the lonely know only the sorrow shows
When you try to hide feelings from within

You're looking for answers and searching all night wondering when it will end
You try to smile but you're dying inside as you forgive him again

And only the lonely know how much it hurts to show
Affection when it's never returned
And only the lonely know only the sorrow shows
When you try to hide feelings from within
And only the lonely know how much it hurts to show
Affection when it's never returned
And only the lonely know only the sorrow shows
When you try to hide feelings from within
