

You're Making It Easy

Charly McClain

You're makin' it easy for somebody else
You're makin' it easy and I can't help myself
You're makin' it easy for somebody new
And you're makin' it easy for me to stop lovin' you

If you would stay home long enough you'd see the tell-tale signs
Of how the ties that used to bind are starting to unwind
'Cause there's another shoulder that I lean on now and then
And I don't have to tell you we're becomin' more than friends

You're makin' it easy for somebody else
You're makin' it easy and I can't help myself
You're makin' it easy for somebody new
And you're makin' it easy for me to stop lovin' you

You're makin' it easy for somebody new
And you're makin' it easy for me to stop lovin' you
And you're makin' it easy for me to stop lovin' you
