

Tides Are Changin'

Charm City Devils

A man comes on the fake news, said the latest trend
Is playing to the mob, ain't it never gonna end?
There's war on the women, there's war on the men
But the kids just all want their e-cigarettes

I know tides, they are a-changin'
I know times, they may be strange, yeah

I don't understand
Won't ya lend me a hand?
I'm just a man

She said, "Forget it, put it bed"
That rock 'n' roll is finally dead
But I can't get it through this thick swollen head
That I can't feed a family on crumbs of bread

I know tides, they are a-changin'
I know times, they may be strange, yeah
I know tides, they are a-changin'
I know times, they are so strange, yeah

I don't understand
Can ya lend me a hand?
I'm just a man

What are we gonna do?
The tides, they are a-changin'
(What are we gonna do?)
What are you gonna do before ya come to face it?
I know times, they may be strange, yeah
(What are you gonna do?)
What are you gonna do when tides are changin'?
The tides, they are a-changin'
(What are we gonna do?)
What are you gonna do? What are you gonna do?
The times, they are strange, yeah

I don't understand
Won't ya lend me a hand?
I'm just a man
Won't ya lend me a hand?
Lend me a hand
Lend me a hand
I'm only a man
Won't ya lend me a hand?
Hand, hand
Hand, hand
Hand, hand
Lend me a hand
Hand, hand
Hand, hand
Hand, hand
Won't ya lend me a hand?

Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah...
